Late News From Frankfort.

The State Election Commissioners decided in favor of the Democrats in the contest for minor State offices, and certificates of election were issued to them, and they have been sworn in. The Republicans refused to give up the offices and the Democrats have opened offices in the Capital Hotel. Extended accounts will be found on page seven.

The Legislature in a stormy session Wednesday passed the $100,000 reward bill by a vote of 57 to 37, almost a party vote. Speaker Trimble took the floor and spoke for the bill. The Republicans made a hard fight against the measure.

George V. Green, of Christian, was elected Prison Commissioner and Miss Pauline Helm Hardin was elected Librarian, by the Legislature in joint session Wednesday.

Gov. Beckham sent his first communication to the General Assembly Wednesday. It was the appointment of Trustees to the A. and M. College and the Western Kentucky Insane Asylum. The appointments were confirmed.

The Goebel memorial services, which were to have been held Wednesday, were deferred by the House until the day preceding the adjournment of the Legislature.

The new Democratic State Government is working, despite minor inconveniences. The State depositories have refused to honor the checks of Treasurer Hager or Mr. Day. Money will soon be coming in, and this will be deposited in a bank which will honor Mr. Hager's check, in order that the business of the State may not be interfered with. Treasurer Hager, received about $10,000 Wednesday.

The Kentucky Press.

The Illustrated Kentuckian is now owned solely by A. B. Lipscomb, editor G. H. Yenowine having retired, to remove to Milwaukee. The I. K. is an excellent magazine and should receive a liberal patronage.

Desha Breckinridge, who has made such a wonderful improvement in the Lexington Herald during the past two years, has bought the American Stock Farm, and will no doubt make it better than ever. Frank Kenney, a Bourbon young man, who is thoroughly versed in horse knowledge, will be the new editor of the Stock Farm.

The Maysville Ledger and the Cynthiana Log Cabin, two excellent Kentucky papers, have been improved with a new dress.

The Georgetown News has donned a new dress.

Congressman Gayle's Bills.

Representative Gayle returned Monday from New Orleans, where he had been for several days. Mr. Gayle will in a few days introduce a bill to allow the widow of the late Evan E. Settle $5,000. This amount is to be exclusive of the balance of $1,500 salary that is usually allowed the widow of a Congressman whose husband dies before the expiration of his term. On Tuesday he introduced a bill to carry out the findings of the Court of Claims in the case of Mrs. James H. Dennis, of Gratz, Owen county. The claims amount to $25,630. Mr. Gayle says he feels confident that the bill will be favorably reported from the Committee on War Claims.

The Kansas City hotels seem to have organized a mammoth trust to show as an object lesson to the Democratic National Convention on the fourth of July. They only want five dollars per night for a cot.

Against The Election Law.

Senator J. C. S. Blackburn favors the modification of the Goebel election law, and also favors a constitutional amendment re-establishing the old viva voce method of voting. He says that the Goebel election law cost the Democratic party 20,000 votes at the last election. The Courier-Journal also calls on the legislature to modify the law, and prepare an amendment to the constitution to abolish the Australian ballot system.

A TEAM of Cynthiana bowlers passed through Paris last night for Maysville where they played a match game with the local team.

A SMOOTH citizen who claimed to be a Bible student swindled many Maysville people in January by soliciting subscriptions to Munsey's Magazine at seventy-five cents per year. Bourbon people should watch for him.

Sham Antiquities.

A few years ago, in Soho, London, there was a factory for antique copers which is probably still in operation. The legitimate business of the place was the manufacture of stewpans and kettles, but when trade was dull in that way any sort of antiques for which there happened to be a demand was produced instead.

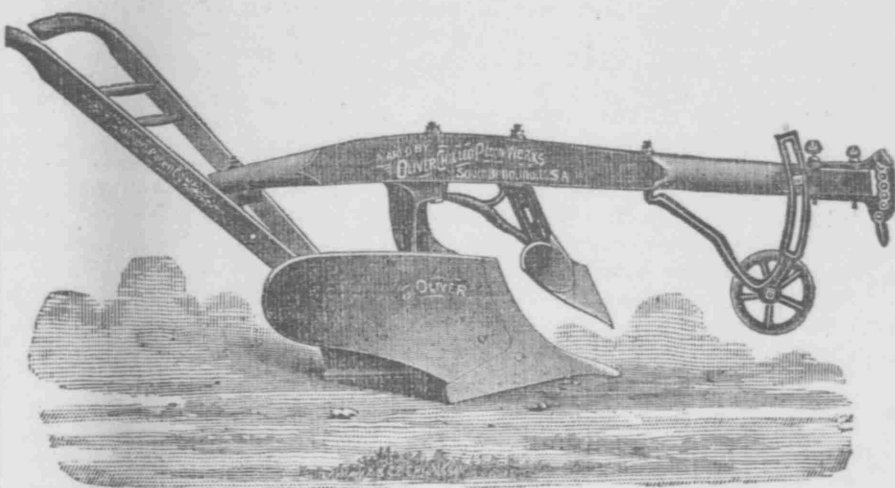

An old incense burner, for example, would be reproduced by the dozen by hammering over a chuck. If ornamented with pierced work, the copies would be coated with asphaltum, through which the design would be traced, when it would then be eaten out in an acid bath, saving the time which would be required to cut out the pattern with a piercing saw. The bath leaves thin edges, by which such work may be detected.

The work would then be annealed and would be permitted to oxidize and scale. Pickling with muriatic acid and salt, to produce a good coating of verdigris, would complete the job. Sometimes these "antiques" would be purposely broken and would be clumsily mended with solder or with pure tin if the piece was to pass for a very ancient one. Chiseled metal was reproduced by casting and "dubbing" over with the hammer, then pickling, annealing and bending. In such ways helmets, copper and brass castings for antique furniture and the like were made.—Art Amateur.

Interest You.

You often hear of buying goods at

but you seldom see the opportunity. Now, I am really going to give you a chance to buy a set of furniture at YOUR OWN PRICE. On Monday, February 12th, I placed on exhibit in my show window a handsome Oak Set of Furniture, the real value of which is $65. Now, this is what any dealer would ask you for this Set of Furniture, and it is a good value. On Tuesday the price of this suite will be $64, Wednesday $63 and $1 less for each day it remains in the window, and it will remain there until the price goes to one dollar, unless some one buys before then. You can buy any time the price suits you, provided the other fellow don't beat you to it. Of course, you may want too good a thing and wait too long, but, of course, that will be your fault. Remember every dollar under $65 is a dollar made.

Undertaking in all its branches. Embalming scientifically attended to. Carriages for hire. Furniture repaired. Household goods moved. WOOD MANTELS and TILINGS always on hand.

I can furnish you at any time an experienced man for mantel work.
